Mission

“Perseverant, but humble. Diligent, but aspired. These words do not just describe our company, but the very people that work here. A passion for healthcare staffing aspired by our very own experiences; desire to want change so much that they themselves strive to encompass everything that crosses their path with the utmost positivity and care. Knightingale Health Services was started solely on the belief that our passion to provide our services will match the benefit of utilizing them. Our goal is to provide our services to both federal and state hospitals, along with any smaller facilities in between. When we commit, we commit to serve and excel.”

- A word from our CEO/President Scott Elliott

“Our vision here at Knightingale Health Services is to plan accordingly and execute without hesitation, as vision without action is just a thought, a hallucination. Maintaining our reputation as a professional small business is key, as well as ensuring that our partners trust is kept in mind at all times, keeping a positive, established relationship. A generous organization, we put forth every ounce of effort to perfect the staffing process and although perfection is often hard to find, we aim to meet and surpass all expectations. Teamwork makes the dream work.”

- Chief Operating Officer, Danielle A. Galvan

Core Competencies

Recruitment

Recruiting from anywhere and everywhere is the ticket to success. We pursue recruitment depending on the needs to be filled: recruiting can be accomplished via phone or by hosting one of our amazing hiring events.

Quality Candidates

Candidates chosen by Knightingale are of the highest quality, with great qualifications to allow for a smooth hiring process. Credentialed candidates have explicable references and clear backgrounds, ensuring a promising relationship between the client and candidate.

Nationwide Service

Knightingale Health Services is a nationwide company, providing staffing needs across the states. From smaller assisted living facilities to larger state hospitals, we can provide any positions that need to be filled, without the worry of high turnover.

Relationship Oriented

With a customer relationship oriented mindset, our recruiters take care of our candidates, from start to finish. Our recruiters verify that the candidate has everything they need to apply, interview, and land each position. Throughout the process, they communicate to candidates to maintain relationships that were created at the beginning.
